Governors Discuss Naval and Military Resources of the Country

OFFER NO RESOLUTIONS

One Executive States Governors Will Work for Program for Strengthening Defense

REDFIELD SPEAKS AT MEETING

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—After discussion of the naval and military resources of the country in which it was generally agreed that the United States was not adequately prepared against foreign invasion, the conference of governors ended its annual sessions today.

No resolutions on the subject were proposed, but several of the executives said they felt certain all the governors would return to their states with the intention of demanding from their congressmen support of a program for strengthening the forces of defense.

To Meet in Salt Lake City.

The governors chose Salt Lake City as the place for next year's meeting and elected the governor of Utah, William Spry, as chairman of the executive committee. The conference program had aroused great public interest in today's discussion. As a result the sessions were removed from the senate chamber to the more spacious hall of the house of representatives where a large audience followed the addresses with frequent applause.

Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, speaking in behalf of the administration, but as a member of it, he said, Secretary Redfield urged soberness of thought in what he termed "these trying times."

"With that spirit of restraint," he added, "should we not be ready for any emergency of any kind that may arise? Should we not at least have the tools ready, not for offense, but for our defense of our nation?"

Urges increase in Army.

Under the head "what should be the state's duty in the matter of national defense?" Governor James F. Fielder of New Jersey, in opening the discussion urged an increase in the standing army by at least 250,000 men with an adequate line of trained reservists. He said he felt that the states should be ready at all times to furnish 250,000 men to this reserve body. Cordial agreement with Governor Fielder's statements was expressed by Governor E. P. Dunne of Illinois, who said he felt the nation's main reliance for a reserve force might well be found in a requirement that every college and university receiving funds, federal or state, should give four years of military training to its students.

"If war was declared on the United States by any of the principal nations of Europe tomorrow, it must be admitted that our situation would be a precarious one," he said. Referring to the need of a great supply of munitions, as developed by the European war, Governor Dunne said that any Great Britain or German fleet could take possession of or destroy all means of manufacturing ammunition in the United States, such plants being almost entirely within 150 miles of New York City.

Governor W. S. Hammond of Minnesota, emphasizing what he said was the fact that this country had spent hundreds of millions more dollars for its army and navy than any other nation in the world, recommended the creation of some board which would be able to roughly to inform congress of the needs for national defense. He said he was not pessimistic as some on the subject of unpreparedness, "holding a suspicion that if need arose, we would find these battalions of ours giving a very good account of themselves."

It was his opinion that the nation must depend largely upon the patriotism of its people for defense; that "the men would not stand for compulsory military service and the nation cannot afford to hire its soldiers."

Belief was expressed by Governor Goldsborough of Maryland, that an extension of measures of defense was necessary.

Governor Park Trammell of Florida felt that dependence was to be placed in the citizen soldiery and was applauded when he added "if the European war lasts two years more, as seems likely, there will not be a first class army or navy in the world except our own."

Stuart Urges Adequate Preparedness

Adequate preparedness was urged by Governor H. C. Stuart of Virginia, while from Governor David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, came the suggestion that state or federal provision be made for bringing into the schools encouragement and opportunity for the boys of the land to

MRS. PERSHING AND CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

ONLY ONE OF GEN. PERSHING'S FAMILY OF FIVE ESCAPES

Boy Is Picked Up Unconscious from Floor of Burning House—Others Dead When Rescuers Reach Them.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—Warren Pershing, five year old son of Brigadier General John J. Pershing, who was rescued early today from his burning home at the Presidio, in which his mother and three sisters, Mary Margaret, Anne and Helen, suffocated and burned, awaited tonight the homecoming of his father.

General Pershing, commanding troops on the Mexican border, left El Paso today when informed that his wife and three of his four children were dead.

He will arrive here Sunday morning. United States Senator Francis E. Warren, father of Mrs. Pershing, will come from Cheyenne, Wyo.

Warren, the only one left of General Pershing's family of five is being mothered by nurses at the Presidio hospital. He was taken there today when he was picked up unconscious on the floor of his room by officers and men who crawled through the burning house, searching for Mrs. Pershing and her four children. Warren revived quickly.

The others were dead when the rescuers reached them, suffocated and their heads, hands and feet burned.

Mrs. Pershing, twenty-first infantry, and her maid leaped from the porch roof to the ground after throwing Mrs. Boswell's two children down to officers and men who responded to the fire alarm.

Mrs. Pershing and her children were to have left within a week to join General Pershing at El Paso. Until General Pershing arrives or sends instructions no arrangements will be made for the funeral.

FIGHT BATTLESHIPS OF ATLANTIC FLEET STEAM INTO HAMPTON ROADS

Big Fighters Execute Series of War Maneuvers in Cruise from the North Atlantic.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 27.—Eight battleships of the Atlantic fleet with eight destroyers, steamed into Hampton roads after their cruise down the coast from Boston where they were reviewed by Secretary Daniels and several state governors on Wednesday. Twelve more battleships and smaller craft of the fleet are due to arrive here Saturday and Sunday. In their cruise from the cruise from the North Atlantic the big fighters executed a series of war maneuvers.

In the division arriving today were the battleships Florida, Michigan, Virginia, Arkansas, Texas, Nebraska, Georgia and New Jersey and the destroyers Beale, Patterson, Trippe, Burrows, Ammen, Jarvis, Fanning and Paulding.

Several of the destroyers wore the new war colors—the stripes of white and gray that make them almost indistinguishable from a short distance at sea. The fleet will have target practice off the Virginia capes beginning next week which will include day and night firing and torpedo drills.

ACTIVITIES FOR SEASON AT CAMP LINCOLN TO END SUNDAY

Members of Fifth Regiment Will Break Camp Today and Leave for Home Sunday.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27.—Activities for the season at Camp Lincoln will cease Sunday when the fifth regiment, under command of Colonel Frank H. Wood of Quincy, will leave for home. Tomorrow members of the regiment will break camp, taking down the United States army tents which have sheltered them for the past week, and will spend the last night in the "pup" tents. These tents are only large enough to accommodate one man and are used by a regiment when on the march.

Sunday Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson leaves for Murphysboro, where he will take personal command of three companies of the state militia which will be present during the trial of Joe Deberry, a negro charged with the murder of Mrs. James Martin. A guard of soldiers at the trial was requested by the sheriff and the circuit judge of Jackson county.

A new note was struck by Francis E. McGovern, former governor of Wisconsin.

"We have been mentally chloroformed," he exclaimed, "by this international propaganda for peace as it has been advanced in America. Our people have been overpersuaded by this movement which has dubbed the officers of our state militia 'in soldiers'. I believe there is a little danger to the nation today as at any time in a score of years. Nevertheless we can never be secure until we put the country in a state of real preparedness, such as its vast interests demand."

The conference during the forenoon considered conservation "of mankind and natural resources," as discussed by John A. Dix, former governor of New York, and by Governor Ernest C. Lister of Washington.

GERMANY TO OFFER FULL SATISFACTION

Intention is Communicated Formally to the State Department

'IF' CASTS ONLY SHADOW

Some Officials Believe Disposition to Question Evidence Might Prove Unsatisfactory

WILL ASK AMERICA TO ACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Germany's intention to offer full satisfaction to the United States for the sinking of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives, was communicated formally to the state department today by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, acting in accordance with instructions from the Berlin foreign office. The ambassador read to Secretary Lansing a memorandum outlining the position of his government. It promised that if it was found that the Arabic was attacked without warning, the imperial government not only would promptly disavow the act but would give the United States "full satisfaction."

This, it is well known, would have to include reparation for the Americans lost and assurances that such tragedies would not be repeated.

No further developments in the situation are expected now until the submarine commander who sank the Arabic has reported to Berlin. Meantime President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, though visibly encouraged and relieved by Count Von Bernstorff's assurances and reports from Ambassador Gerard on his conferences with foreign Minister Von Jagow, are in a waiting attitude.

Must Explain and Disavow Act. Before the American government can speak there must be forthcoming the German disavowal and explanation of what all evidence received has seemed to prove was "an unfriendly act."

It became known tonight that the state department has been informed that Germany is ready to renew discussion of the Lusitania incident and to offer reparation for the American lives lost when that vessel was sent to the bottom without warning by a German submarine.

There has been no response to the last American note on this subject and it is known that the United States would not listen to reparation proposals with the situation created by the sinking of the Arabic still pending.

"If" Casts Only Shadow. With the attack on the Arabic disavowed, however, and guarantees given against repetition, a German communication explaining that the Lusitania was torpedoed as a reprisal against Great Britain under a misapprehension that she was armed and that killing of Americans was regretted and not intended and offering reparation, probably would pave the way for amicably closing the incident. About the only shadow over the optimism in official circles today was cast by the "if" in the promise conveyed by Ambassador Von Bernstorff. Some officials thought a disposition by Germany to question the evidence that the Arabic, a peaceful passenger vessel, unarmed and inoffensive was attacked without warning, might lead to interminable and unsatisfactory negotiations. It was even suggested that there was a possibility that the submarine which fired the torpedo, might even have fallen a victim to British warships and would never be able to report.

Will Ask America to Act. German officials have made it plain that their government, as soon as it has relieved the strain upon its relations with the United States, by limiting submarine activities, will ask the American government to demand that Great Britain and her allies cease interfering with legitimate neutral commerce and thus permit the importation of foodstuffs for the German civil population. The American note to England on this subject has been in preparation for some time and probably will be dispatched as soon as the negotiations with Germany are on the way toward satisfactory adjustment.

CONDO LEAVES ESTATE TO WIDOW AND CHILDREN

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The will of John Condon, who was the owner of several race tracks, which was filed for probate here today, leaves his entire estate, valued at $460,000, to his widow and two children. Condon was blind for fifteen years before his death. He was reputed to be a millionaire.

ARREST ALLEGED OF AN ARSON RING

Portland, Ore., Aug. 27.—Sanford Currier, alleged by the police to be the head of an arson ring operating in Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland was arrested here today and held in jail for lack of $20,000 bail.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS AS RESULT OF FLOODS

APPEALS FOR HELP ARE SENT OUT FROM NEWPORT, ARK.

Approximately Four Thousand Families Have Been Driven Into Four, Arkansas Towns and Are Sheltered in Makeshift Camps.

Little Rock, Ark., August 27.—Thousands of people tonight are homeless and suffering from lack of food as a result of the floods which have swept vast sections of Arkansas during the past few days. Appeals for help to care for the flood victims were sent out late today by Mayor A. T. Hubby, of Newport, and the officials of other cities and towns along the White river. Four thousand people at Newport have been driven from their dwellings by the flood waters and tonight are in a critical condition. The suffering among children is considered particularly acute. Many infants are without milk.

Newport, Searcy, Augusta and Georgetown asked for food and money. Approximately 1,000 families from the surrounding country have been driven into the four towns and are sheltered in makeshift camps.

While the White river was falling at Newport tonight, the great volume of water from tributary streams probably will keep it at flood stage for ten days. The crest of the flood has reached the lower White river and thousands of fertile acres have been converted into vast lakes.

Des Arc, Ark. where the levee broke last night the river still was rising rapidly tonight. At DeValls Bluff, Ark. the river has reached the highest stage ever known there.

Black river was reported falling tonight and it was believed it will not send a flood down the White as was feared yesterday.

FORECAST PROMPT RATIFICATION OF PROPOSED TREATY WITH HAITI

Pending Convention Would Provide for a Native Police Force Officer by Americans.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Prompt ratification of the proposed American treaty by the Haitian parliament was forecast today in dispatches to the state department from Charge Davis at Port au Prince.

President D'Artiguenave, head of the new government, is committed to the convention and is believed to have assurances of sufficient support from senators and delegates to obtain favorable action within a few days.

It became known today that plans of the United States for putting Haiti in order, contemplate calling upon the war department if necessary to furnish officers who have developed and commanded the Philippine constabulary. The pending treaty would provide not only for complete financial protectorate and the administration of custom houses but for a native police force officers by Americans.

CREIGHTON WILL GIVE DECISION IN INJUNCTION SUITS TODAY

Payments on Appropriations Specially Attacked Have Been Held Up Since Suits Were Filed Early in July.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27.—Judge James A. Creighton, of the Sangamon county circuit court tomorrow will announce his decision on the petition of John B. Pergus, of Chicago, for injunctions restraining the payment of many appropriations made by the recent general assembly. The suits, which were filed by Fayette B. Munro, of Highland Park, a former member of the state legislature, were argued some time ago and since they were filed early in July the payments on appropriations specially attacked have been held up by State Auditor James J. Brady and State Treasurer Andrew Russell.

The acts of the legislature under fire are:

The "omnibus" appropriation bill. The $26,000 appropriation for mileage of members of the assembly. The deficiency appropriation bill. Today Fred W. Burlingham, of Chicago, representing himself as a director of the Citizens' Association of Chicago, filed an intervening motion in the circuit court, asking that he be made a co-complainant in the suits.

PROMINENT LAWYER DIES.

Effingham, Ill., Aug. 27.—Benson Wood, former congressman, prominent lawyer and reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in Southern Illinois, died at his home here today. Mr. Wood served in the Illinois legislature in 1872 and was sent to congress from the old thirteenth district in 1894. He once was president of the Illinois Bar association and was a past commander of the Grand Army of the Republic.

CHARGE EMBEZZLEMENT.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 27.—A man said by the police to be O. C. Klingman, aged 51, was arrested here today on a warrant charging embezzlement of between $10,000 and $40,000, from the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company of Racine, Wis.

ARREST SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE

State's Attorney Believes Minister Was Slain As Result of Quarrel

GUARDS INFORMATION

Chief of Police of Tolleston, States He Merely Wishes to Question Modjesch

GERMANS PROBE KILLING

GARY, Ind., Aug. 27.—Rev. Edmund A. M. Kayser, who was shot and killed in his home in Tolleston, Ind., a suburb, last Tuesday night, was buried today, the mystery surrounding his death apparently still impenetrable seventy-two hours after his body, bound with cord, was discovered in the yard of his home near the church of which he was pastor.

The arrest of Thomas Modjesch, an inspector at the Gary steel mills, and a statement by State's Attorney Clyde Hunter that Kayser was slain by his own revolver as a result of a quarrel over business matters with persons who called on his night of his murder, furnished the chief developments of the day in the search for a motive and participants in the crime.

Chief to Question Modjesch.

Statements made to Chief of Police Heitz by Attorney Paul Tomanczyk, with offices in Chicago and Gary and who is reported to have talked with Kayser an hour before his body was found by a passerby, resulted in the arrest of Modjesch, who is being held pending an examination. The nature of the information leading up to the arrest of Modjesch was guarded by Chief Heintz, who said tonight that he merely wished to question the former.

"I am convinced that Kayser was shot after he had quarreled over a business matter with persons who called on him Tuesday night between 8 and 9 o'clock," said State's Attorney Hunter, "and I believe he was slain by his own weapon. There is evidence satisfactory to my mind that visitors called unexpectedly and that possibly the minister had left his newly purchased weapon where it could be reached by his assailants and not by himself. As to the political nature of the quarrel I have nothing to say but it seems to me that there is sufficient evidence now in the hands of the police to justify arrests that have been in contemplation for several days."

Thinks Allies Sympathizer Guilty.

E. W. Andree, president of the German alliance of Hammond, Ind., late tonight asserted that as a result of his investigation he had come to the conclusion that Kayser was murdered by a sympathizer of the allies, because of the pastor's alleged denunciation of England, Russia and France and because of the stirring lectures and his published articles in which he made these attacks.

Andree stated that Kayser repeatedly had confessed that he feared his life was in danger as a result of these utterances.

"Probably the most enthusiastic man in the United States regarding the movement to make this country absolutely neutral by placing an embargo on arms was the Rev. Mr. Kayser," Andree declared in a statement given out tonight. "He worked day and night to carry on this propaganda and offered his services without remuneration. He was planning to attend the German alliance convention in Fort Wayne, Sept. 4th and 5th. He had written me to that effect."

Only One Theory Left.

"Several members of the German alliance and I went to Gary the day after their order. We had understood that he was slain by pro-ally sympathizers. Nevertheless we investigated the case from all angles. We interviewed ten members of the Saxonerein and found that there was absolutely nothing to the theory that members of that organization had committed the crime. We also found that there was no woman in the case and that he was not robbed. Therefore, there is only one theory left and a mighty strong one at that—and that is he was slain by pro-ally sympathizers."

COL. BLAKELEY DIES.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 27.—Col. Archibald Blakeley, aged 88, oldest member of the Allegheny county bar, died at his home here tonight after an illness of four months. He was said to have been the last survivor of the group of prominent men from various parts of the United States who were here in February, 1886, and took steps which resulted in the formation of the Republican party.

TAFT HEADS UNITARIANS.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—William Howard Taft was elected president of the general conference of Unitarian church in session here. This is the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the organization.

PRELATE HAS EQUAL CHANCE TO RECOVER

BISHOP HEFFRON IS SHOT TWICE BY PRIEST AT WINONA, MINN.

One Bullet Takes Effect in Left Thigh and the Second in the Left Lung—Father Lesches, Who Fired Shots, is Said to Be Unbalanced Mentally.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 27.—A bulletin issued tonight by physicians in attendance upon the Right Reverend Patrick R. Heffron, bishop of the Winona diocese of the Roman Catholic church, announced that the prelate had an equal chance to recover from the effects of two bullet wounds received earlier in the day at the hands of Rev. L. M. Lesches, a priest.

It was during the celebration of a mass in the chapel that the bishop was shot. Entering the dimly-lit room during the ceremony, Father Lesches made his way unnoticed to the side of the prelate. Without warning he fired a shot from a small caliber revolver, the bullet taking effect in the bishop's left thigh. Wheeling toward his assailant Bishop Heffron received a second bullet in his left lung. After firing the two shots Father Lesches fled from the chapel but soon was apprehended and placed in a cell, from where he issued a rambling statement tonight. By those who read the priest's statement it is said he may have been laboring under the impression that he had been discriminated against by his victim in the matter of parish assignments.

For several years he is said to have been unbalanced mentally, although Bishop Heffron had refused to believe that the priest was at all dangerous.

After being wounded Bishop Heffron walked from the chapel to his residence nearby, where he gave instructions regarding the notification of the authorities and the summoning of a surgeon to attend him.

It was said tonight that the bullet which struck him in the thigh had been removed. No attempt, however, was made to extract the bullet which lodged back of the left lung. This action could not be decided upon until the prelate's condition was less critical.

SMOKING CAR GOES THROUGH BRIDGE; FOUR ARE KILLED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 27.—Weakened by a cloudburst, one of the spans of a Santa Fe railroad bridge over Dale Creek collapsed today, plunging the smoking car of a freight-bound Phoenix-Flagstaff train into the swollen stream below. Four passengers were killed and eighteen injured. The engine crossed the bridge safely and the sleeping car remained on the tracks.

The wreck occurred eleven miles from a telegraph station and it was nearly eight hours before help arrived.

ARREST TWO GIRLS AND SIX BOYS ON BURGLARY CHARGES

None Are More Than Eighteen Years Old—Comprise Two Separate Gangs.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Two girls and six boys, none more than eighteen years old, comprising two separate gangs of burglars, were arrested tonight, and according to the police, have confessed scores of robberies.

A third girl, not yet eighteen years old, is under arrest charged with being the tutor of the other girls, and two men are held on the charge of receiving stolen property. The girls are Sora Seidlick, 18 years old, and Lilian Seidlick, her sister, 16 years old. The alleged tutor is Mrs. Mary Haamersmith, known to the police as "Baldheaded Mary."

The boys are Frank Darrion, 15 years old; Samuel Rice, 17 years old; Eugene Lavier, 16 years old; Eli Lapine, 17; Philip Sartari, 17, and his brother, Tony, 16.

Lewis Berroddin and Tony Mamoin are held as receivers of stolen property. According to the alleged confessions the police say that the girls have been robbing houses for more than two years. The officers assert that "Baldheaded Mary," so-called from a disease which left her without hair, is one of the cleverest of "afternoon prowlers" with whom they have had to deal.

The two gangs are said by the police to have worked separately, but the arrest of each crowd came through the arrest of one of the boys who told the police of the two men accused of being "fences" for a number of thieves.

COOL WAVE IS ALMOST SPENT; WARMER WEATHER PROMISED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The cool wave which spread forth and record low temperatures today over much of the country east of the Mississippi was almost spent tonight. Weather bureau experts declared it would be warmer tomorrow and that by Sunday the wintry storm causing the abnormal temperatures would have passed into the Atlantic, leaving behind generally fair and warmer weather.

Another disturbance over Central Manitoba, Canada, was reported tonight, but only a few thundershowers had resulted.

GERMANS RESUME BALTIC OFFENSIVE

Press Russ In Districts Southeast of Mitau and to the East of Kovno

FRENCH TAKE TRENCHES

Air Squadron Bombs German Positions and Munition Fac- tories Across Border

EXPECT SERB ANSWER SOON

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Germans, in full possession of the entire Brest-Litovsk line, have resumed the offensive in the Baltic provinces and are pressing the Russians both in the districts southeast of Mitau and to the east of Kovno, in an effort to reach the main line of railway which passes through Vilna and Dvinsk to Petrograd. This may prove to be the most important of the German operations, although at present they are using more troops in the pursuit of the Russians who are retiring from Brest-Litovsk and the line on either side of the fortress.

May Try to Cut Off Retreat. It is expected, however, that with the fall of Brest-Litovsk which has been followed by that of Olita, south of Kovno, the armies of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will be reinforced and make another attempt to cut off the retreat of the Russians. It is believed here, however, that it is now too late to accomplish this purpose.

The Russians apparently had evacuated both Brest-Litovsk and Olita before the Germans arrived as the latter make no claim to the capture of guns and booty. The Austrian official report states that Arch Duke Joseph Ferdinand found the town of Kamieniec-Litovsk in flames when he arrived. There are indications, therefore, that the Russians still are carrying to the rear everything that might prove of use to the invaders and burning what they are unable to take with them. The intimation that the Russians have fortified another front pending an opportunity for a renewed offensive has received some confirmation. It is stated that the new line is being strengthened by all the latest methods known to military engineers.

Russ Armies Still Intact.

The Russian armies still are intact with virtually all their guns and prospects of a more plentiful supply of ammunition. For this reason, military writers here are of the opinion that Grand Duke Nicholas now should be able to make a stand, as the Austro-German losses must have been very heavy, especially during the three weeks which intervened between the fall of Warsaw and the occupation of Brest-Litovsk.

The capture of several German trenches in the Voges was reported by Paris this evening, but what is considered more significant is the continued activity of the air squadrons, which have been bombarding German positions in France as well as munition factories across the German border. There has been no further news from the Dardanelles or the Balkans, but it now is certain that Serbia is prepared to make the necessary sacrifices to satisfy Bulgaria and gain her co-operation in behalf of the allies. It may be several days, however, before the Serbian reply to the representations of the entente powers is received.

The vote of the Serbian parliament was only upon the principle involved and negotiations now are proceeding between Serbia, Greece and Roumania regarding the exact nature of the concessions to be made Bulgaria.

Wales Threatened With Strike.

Wales is threatened with another coal strike as the result of dissatisfaction among the miners with the way in which the settlement recently arranged by David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, is being interpreted by the mine owners. Some 10,000 men already are out, contrary to the advice of their leaders.

Col. Roosevelt's recent speech at the military camp at Plattsburg was certainly warlike in tone. Judging from the expressed sentiments of Morgan county people on two recent occasions the colonel's ideas about the advisability of the U. S. taking an active part in the European conflict do not represent the popular feeling on his subject. It was an ill timed speech.

Senator Sherman addressing an audience at Galesburg assailed in vigorous terms the Roosevelt "let there be war" speech. The senator then re-affirmed his previous statement that he will support the president's international policy and that he believes in an adequate army and navy. Sherman's idea along these lines represent the popular view but the senator has not adopted these views because they are popular but because they are right.

The recent outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in the northern part of Illinois has had a tendency to cause a sharp decline in the live stock market. There is no indication that the disease is to spread to any wide extent, but commission men are one in the opinion that the heavy increase in shipment of cattle during recent days has been caused by a fear of a general outbreak and quarantine. John T. Alexander of Chicago said recently that he knows personally of a great many car loads of cattle shipped out of Illinois and Indiana for this very reason. The general opinion seems to be that the heavy increase in shipment of cattle will be much lighter than usual this year and this gives basis for the view that higher prices may be expected for corn fed cattle unless there is further alarm because of the spread of the foot and mouth disease.

Straw Votes Show People's Wishes

The other day at the Old Settlers meeting Mr. Moore asked all of the audiences upholding President Wilson in his opposition to war to raise their hands. He also called for the negative vote. There was none, but there was a large vote in favor of Mr. Wilson's position. Of course this was by women as well as men.

Friday afternoon when Senator Kenyon of Iowa made his address he was repeatedly applauded when he stated his position in opposition to war, and, repeatedly applauded again when he said he was in favor of a proper preparation for any necessary conflict. Mr. Kenyon stated his support of Mr. Wilson on the war subject, although opposed to the president in many other views.

There were in the neighborhood of two thousand people in the chautauque tent Friday afternoon. These two "straw" votes show the patriotic position of the people, and also their firm opposition to a needless or oppressive war.

A Man With a Message.

Senator Kenyon who made an address before a chautauque audience here Friday afternoon is one of the big men of the United States senate. He is big because he looks upon the business of citizenship in a serious way and believes that the American people want their officials at Washington to be high minded; honest men, imbued with a sense of duty to their constituents and to humanity in general. He believes that duty to constituents does not consist in securing government appropriations for buildings and monuments but in the passage of laws which bring the greatest amount of protection and benefit to the people.

Senator Kenyon's address was properly of non-partisan character, and he declared that the extravagances in government management and the tendency to pass too many laws was true of all parties. The senator is a republican whose good course kept him in favor with both factions during the late party "unpleasantness" and now that differences have largely disappeared he holds a still higher place. Referring to the party trouble yesterday Senator Kenyon said it was somewhat like that of a family he once heard of. A widower with children married a widow with children and later on had children of their own. One day all of the youngsters got into trouble and the husband who had witnessed the strife called to his wife for help, because his children and her children were fighting their children.

Senator Kenyon impressed his audience yesterday that he is a man with a message and that the message breathes a strong, patriotic, Christian citizenship.

The Salaries of Ministers.

F. A. Delano, formerly a receiver for the Wabash railroad and long prominent in railroad circles, was a recent speaker before the general conference of Unitarian churches held in San Francisco and was the chairman of the committee on ministers' salaries. His statement of his opinion on this subject has been received with interest by ministers and laymen of all denominations. As Mr. Delano sees the matter, an adequate salary for a minister in any given town or city is the amount which will enable him, his wife and two dependents, to live with reasonable economy in sufficient comfort to maintain the health of the family; to take sufficient recreation; to keep up his professional standards by the purchase of books and magazines and by attending conferences; and to make due provision for illness and old age.

Mr. Delano says that a minister needs more than a bare living if his effectiveness is not to be handicapped. He figures that salaries from $1,000 up, with parsonages, should apply in towns of less than 5,000, and that $4,000 and up should apply in cities of more than 250,000. Mr. Delano's views are interesting, but the rule he lays down would be somewhat difficult to apply, in that "reasonable economy" and "sufficient comfort" are capable of such broad interpretation. His idea that the salary should be sufficient to support a minister and wife and two dependents would not have particular bearing, either, in the case of a minister who recently applied for a Jacksonville church. His "little" family consists of eight sons and one daughter.

Mr. Blease Has Varying Ideas.

The wild career of former Governor Blease of South Carolina in the exercise of the pardoning power might be expected to give the public the idea that his statements are not to be accorded much attention. Nevertheless the former governor's address at the governors' conference in Boston Thursday was given considerable newspaper space. His theme was "The Duty and Responsibility of Chief Executives in Dealing with Prisoners," and he received no word of approval when he made the sensational declaration that the lynching of men in the south for certain crimes is a protection to civilization. He made an equally sensational statement when he said "When mobs are no longer possible, liberty will be dead." These statements not only brought no approval but naturally some sharp retorts and criticisms from others in attendance at the conference.

Yet this same former official who advocates lynching under certain conditions, has a record of having relieved the penitentiary of South Carolina of practically every inmate through the exercise of his pardoning power. His acts are almost as contradictory as some of his statements, yet his reference in the Thursday address to the use of third degree methods is to be commended. Those who have made a study of criminology and of the punishment and control of a large percentage of offenders against the address to the use of third degree methods is to be commended. Those who have made a study of criminology of the offenders against the law are firmly convinced that third degree methods are wholly reprehensible—that they represent the days of barbarism and seldom attain the purpose of meting justice to the guilty.

TESTING THE VALUE OF THE KINDERGARTEN

The value of the kindergarten as tested by its results is discussed by Miss A. M. Winchester in an annual review of kindergarten work just issued by the Commissioner of Education.

"For several years investigations have been undertaken in different cities," says the review, "for the purpose of ascertaining the advantage gained by children with kindergarten training over non-kindergarten children. The emphasis in these investigations has been placed usually upon the rate of speed with which the children make the successive grades."

"The fallacy of drawing conclusions from such surveys," says Miss Winchester, "is manifest at once. It is well-nigh impossible to gauge the speed correctly, because in the first grade both kindergarten and non-kindergarten children are placed together, and by the rule of uniformity which seems necessary in school systems, the teacher unconsciously standardizes the progress of her class. The laggards are brought up by dint of conscientious work, and the forward ones are held in leash, so that by the time the fifth or sixth grade is reached, whatever special impetus may have resulted from the child's kindergarten training has ceased to be measurable."

"In any event the permanent value of the kindergarten has little if any connection with the number of years required to go through the grades. The kindergarten's concern is with the content of the years rather than with their number; with the fullness of the life of the child rather than with the mere economy of time. Power to think and do, a tendency to assume right attitudes toward life, and ability to work and play happily with one's fellows—these are the results of training based upon the belief in education by development."

An investigation about to be undertaken by the International Kindergarten Union in this field, Miss Winchester points out, will involve making a study in several different cities of one set of children who entered kindergarten five years ago and another set in the same school who did not attend kindergarten, be examined with reference to their records of these children will be examined with reference to their interests, attitudes, spirit toward one another, and with reference to their proficiency in school studies. The quality and spirit of the teachers of these children as well as the quality and spirit of the homes from which the children come will be taken into consideration.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

London—Happiness has come at last to a beautiful English girl, who was the widow of George Joseph Smith, the famous "brides in bath" murderer, who was hanged at Maidstone prison two weeks ago. It is a romance of America, for she has married the man whom she met in far-away British Columbia, whither she has gone to drown her sorrows. Caroline Beatrice Thornhill married Smith, who was known as Love. She escaped the death in the bathtub that was the fate of three other brides of Smith. But she was deserted and heart-broken, and only seventeen. Out to the new world she bravely set forth to start life anew. At New Westminster, B. C., she met Thomas J. Davies, now a member of the Royal Engineers. They fell in love, and planned their wedding, which was to take place when the deserted bride was freed by the hangman's rope. On Friday, Aug. 13, Smith went to the gallows, and on the following day his pretty widow was married in Christ Church Leicester. Among those who attended was the bridegroom's father, George Davies, who had traveled across a continent and an Ocean to be present.

Chicago—After a chase through many states and into Canada, Mrs. Rose Matrovski rounded up the man who "jumped" his $2,000 bail bond which she had signed. Rather than lose her property she became a man hunter. Her return in triumph ended the hunt, and in a taxicab she took her prisoner to the jail. Benjamin Bealk, who weighs at least twice as much as the nervy woman, weekly submitted. Into Canada, then to New York's tenderloin, down into New Jersey and back to New York, Mrs. Matrovski pursued her quarry, among pickpockets and white slavers. By sleuthing she located her quarry, and secured police aid.

Washington—Women's sphere in affairs of state extends into one of the most important offices of the Government. Especially important at the present day is the library of the State Department, where are kept the treaties, valuable data that determine the American policy in world affairs. Miss Lucy Stuart Fitzhugh, who has catalogued and classified the library, is the expert clerk of the library, and cares for its precious documents. She takes the place of the honored "keeper of the rolls," who ranks as a high dignitary in foreign governments. "We have here a great many publications and documents which are to be found nowhere else in the world," she says. "Among our most precious documents are the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States in the originals, with the articles of confederation, the emancipation proclamation and other papers vital to our country's history." Miss Fitzhugh is a Kentucky girl. She taught school in Pennsylvania, Georgia and Michigan, and won her present office through the civil service. Dr. Eugene Wambaugh of Harvard, who was special counsel for the State Department when the European War broke out, remarked that the government had at least one employee well placed. She translates foreign languages, and knows the contents of treaties like a book.

New York—Mrs. Maude Brevoort Barclay, who was once known as the Six Million Dollar Widow, is bankrupt. Her vast fortune, which was represented in real estate, has disappeared, and her present holdings are worth hardly $30,000. Her lawyer told the court that Mrs. Barclay, like many other social leaders, had entrusted her business affairs to agents and servants. The agents paid exorbitant bonuses for loans and made unbusinesslike concessions to tenants. She inherited her fortune from her first husband, Augustus B. Prentice.

GOOD ROADS MEETING

AT WHITE HALL.
There is to be a meeting of those interested in the matter of good roads through this section of Illinois at White Hall on Monday, Aug. 30. The principal subject for discussion is the location of the route of the Big 4 road between White Hall and Pittsfield. The logical route, in the opinion of some who have given considerable thought to the matter, is that the road should run from White Hall on the Burlington trail to Roodhouse and then to Manchester and directly west to Pittsfield through Alsey, Glasgow, Montezuma and Milton, crossing the Illinois river at Montezuma where there are splendid ferry accommodations. The roads are in splendid conditions along this route and pass through thickly settled territory where they would be utilized by a great many residents in contiguous territory. The road if laid out along this route, will connect with the Burlington way which will pass through Jacksonville. This is the subject in particular to be discussed at the meeting to be held in White Hall. Advocates of another routing have a number of arguments to advance in their favor.

Time to be thinking about a good fall suit and Knoles has 'em.

PROBATE COURT.

In the estate of William F. Fletcher letter testamentary were ordered to issue to Louisa J. Fletcher. In the estate of John Vieira letters of administration were ordered to issue to Mrs. Nellie Vieira, with bond in the sum of $1,400. In the estate of Ephraim L. Pease, final report was approved and the estate declared closed.

W. E. Camp of Peoria was a business visitor in the city Friday.

NO REPLY HAS BEEN SENT TO GEN. CARRANZA'S INQUIRY

Officials Reiterate That If There Is Any Response It Will Direct Attention to Fact That Signers Attached Their Official Titles.

Washington, Aug. 27.—No reply had been sent today to Carranza's inquiry through Consul Silliman as to whether Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats acted in their official capacities in signing their peace appeal.

Officials reiterated that if there was any response it would be in the form of a message to Mr. Silliman directing his attention to the fact that the signers of the petition had attached their official titles.

It became known tonight that the case of H. W. Francis, a newspaper correspondent imprisoned at Vera Cruz for sending out despatches unfavorable to Carranza, is giving the state department considerable concern. Two weeks ago a demand for the prisoners' release was ignored and all efforts to arrange bail for him have failed. Representations were renewed today and it is understood that the message was of a very vigorous character. Francis is a British subject though employed by American newspapers. Until recently he was held incommunicado, but as a result of repeated representations he is now permitted to see his friends.

SIXTY-SIX AWAIT TRIAL IN KENTUCKY NIGHT RIDERS CASE

HARTFORD, Ky., Aug. 27.—Three men who pleaded guilty to being members of a band of night riders, so-called "Possum hunters", that for months spread terror throughout this section of Western Kentucky, tonight are in the state prison. One other yesterday was acquitted by a jury and sixty-six defendants are awaiting trial. Ephraim Reisinger, a coal miner, today admitted he placed the lash when Reuben Howard, a merchant and his wife, were whipped at Horton the night of June 12th.

Court adjourned late today until next Thursday when the cases of Jerry Fulkerson and ten others will be called. It is alleged they participated in an attack on a Rockport negro settlement last April when one negro was killed. The grand jury still is in session.

REPORT CHINA IS TO PURCHASE ONE HUNDRED SUBMARINES

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Financial circles here were interested in a rumor that the Chinese commission of naval experts recently sent to this country were negotiating for the purchase of 100 submarines at a total cost of $75,000,000.

It was reported that Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation had been authorized by the Chinese government to place orders with American submarine builders. It was said that Mr. Schwab also has been given charge of the manufacturing in this country of China's vast naval program.

FARMERS' DAY AT CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS

GOOD PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR DAY NEXT TO CLOSE

"Luther Burbank Man" at Night and W. E. Taylor in Afternoon Address — MacQueen Travelogue Makes Excellent Climax For G. A. R. Activities.

FARMERS' DAY PROGRAM.

8:30—Kindergarten work.
9:30—Boys' and Girls' club.
10:30—Jeffries' band.
11:00—Farmers' tent — Karl Krueenwald.

Afternoon.

1:30—Farmers' tent—E. F. Ford.
2:00—Concert Jeffries' band.
2:30—Lecture W. E. Taylor.
3:30—Short family of Murrayville.

Evening.

7:30—Concert Jeffries' band.
8:00—Lecture — Henry A. Adrian.

With selection of W. E. Taylor and Henry A. Adrian for Farmers' day addresses at the Jacksonville chautauqua, attention was given to the speaking ability of the men and the popular appeal of the subjects they present, making the day of interest not only to farmers but to all members of the reading and thinking public. Mr. Adrian has been on the chautauqua platform for three seasons with a lecture descriptive of the work of Luther Burbank, and the wonderful things accomplished by this wizard of plant life. Dr. William E. Taylor will refer especially to dairying, silos and alfalfa in his afternoon talk on "How to Make Farming Profitable." All will welcome the appearance of the Short family of Murrayville immediately after Mr. Taylor's address.

The talk by Hon. Jasper P. Darling Friday morning was received with good interest and the address by Senator Kenyon was an able presentation of a difficult subject. Especially pleasing was Miss Edna Sheppard's program after the speech by Mr. Kenyon.

"One of the best addresses given in the farmers' tent," was the dictum of those who heard the talk by Dr. George M. Coffey at 4 o'clock. Dr. Coffey is assistant state leader of the county agent's work in Illinois and spoke upon "The Work of the County Advisor."

In Peter MacQueen's travelogue lecture last evening stereopticon views, fresh from the battlefields of Europe, were thrown upon the screen. At the beginning of the war Mr. MacQueen was caught in the midst of a tour which included Turkey, Italy, Austria and portions of Russia. His talk was punctuated with bright, snappy anecdotes and took with the audience from the first. With its graphic pictures of war as it is, the lecture made a fitting climax to the Grand Army Day program.

Difficult Feats of Strength.

At the conclusion of a pleasing program by Jeffries' band last night, the Y. M. C. A. drill team made their second appearance at the chautauqua and their reception was equally as good as was the case on Wednesday night.

Walton Boxell showed up to excellent advantage in his pendulum swing and Harry Walker starred in a difficult shoulder balancing feat. Dale Boxell startled the audience with his long running dive and back roll and H. A. Brewer won long applause with one of the most difficult feats on the parallel bars, a hand balance and slow press down to shoulder balance and three back rolls. The work put on Wednesday and Friday nights is the result of three years' systematic training on the part of the boys and speaks well for instruction and drill received in the Jacksonville Y. M. C. A.

Miss Sheppard's Recital.

A special feature of the Friday afternoon program was the piano recital given by Miss Edna Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sheppard, of 284 Sandusky street. Miss Sheppard's career in music has been watched with interest by her friends, and each year she has shown advancement in her work. After graduating from the School of Music of the Woman's College she took post-graduate work in the Peoria College of Music and for the past two years has been studying under the celebrated Heinrich Gubhart, of Boston. She expects to spend the coming year, teaching and studying in Boston.

Miss Sheppard's playing is delightful indeed. Naturally gifted in music she has added to this talent good hard study, and her development has been of a marked character. Miss Sheppard delighted the audience with her exquisite interpretation, splendid technique and temperament. She plays with wonderful understanding of the author's meaning, and her execution of difficult passages was brilliantly executed. Her playing possessed a charm that attracts and delights and it was indeed a pleasure to her. Following her program she was gracious in her response for an encore. The program follows:

"The Lark"—Balalrew.
"Etude" D flat major—Liszt.
"Impromptu"—F sharp in major—Chopin.
Waltz, Opus 42—Chopin.

CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAMHON. JASPER DARLING MADE AD-DRESS ON DUTY OF PATRIOTISM.Speaker Attacked Administration for Not Stopping Sale of War Munitions
to Europe—Mr. Bancroft Praised Great Work of Soldiers.The concert by the Jeffries' band was greatly enjoyed and duly appreciated as was the singing of Capt.
John E. Wright and W. S. Lorton.
The patriotic airs and songs went right to the hearts of the old fellows who fully enjoyed them.Major McDougall Presides.
At the close of the concert A. C.
Rice introduced Major C. E. Mc-Dougall with complimentary remarks as chairman of the day.On taking the chair Major McDougall said that 34 years ago enough boys as we called them, enlisted to fill the tent full and much more.
Less than half of them came back.
However, all felt as young as boys today and were glad to be present even though the number was not as large as it would have been years ago.H. H. Bancroft Speaks.
After "America" was sung by Captain Wright and W. S. Lorton, leading, and the audience joining, the chair introduced Mr. H. H. Bancroft, as a loyal gentleman who failed to go to war because he wasn't old enough. Mr. Bancroft said in brief:
"I regard it a great pleasure and privilege to be here today for I have all admiration for the men who saved the union. Today we have a united land with no north or south divided and it has often been my privilege to hear from many old soldiers their experiences and thus I have come to realize the great sacrifice made, the tremendous burdens borne and the great patriotism which inspired the men who fought that we might have a land free and united."Story of Bronze Button.
"When the call to arms was heard you nobly responded, possibly not always realizing the might of the undertaking, but you never flinched in the time of peril; shot and shell, sword and cannon, sickness and privation, even the gloom of the prison hell, did not deter you from bravely doing all, that your country might be saved from the onslaught of the enemy. You can look back on your experiences in the field with no small degree of satisfaction and with no little pride you can wear the little bronze button which is a proud emblem than that of any other earthly organization. That little button tells of bloody battles in which brave comrades fell; it tells of hunger and toil; of weary marches through morass and over hills and vales; of the waiting at the front for the battle to begin; the time that most tried men's souls; of the grand review when with depleted ranks, tattered uniforms, rusty rifles and proud step you marched with the plaudits of a grateful people ringing in your ears, and returned to your homes and took up the vocation of life honored, respected and beloved by a grateful nation."Illinois' Trinity.
"I well knew one of the comrades,
J. B. Williamson, and have heard him tell of his participation in fourteen battles and I am glad today to pay a well deserved tribute to his memory. It makes me proud to be a native of Illinois, the state that gave the nation such a trinity: John A.
Logan, from the southern part of the state; the man who first conceived the idea of decoration day and who rode over southern Illinois and did a large part in saving it to the union; from the northern part the grand commander who wrested victory from defeat and whose name will go down to posterity as one of the great generals of the world, U.
S. Grant; and from the center of the state that peerless leader, statesman and emancipator, a man especially raised up by Divine Providence to guide the ship of state through such perilous seas, the immortal Abraham Lincoln."Honor to Veterans.
"I deem it proper to take advantage of every opportunity to do all possible honor to the veterans who so gallantly fought the terrible battles of the Civil war to keep our land one and indissoluble. You stepped forward regardless of the mighty undertaking you were assuming; nobly and grandly you did your duty and returned to your homes bequeathing to posterity a priceless legacy and heritage which it will be the aim of succeeding generations to preserve and plant the old flag higher and higher as the years go by."Capt. Wright then sang a sequel to the well known song, "Tenting To-Night," after which Major McDougall said there were from this county 106 men in the Spanish war and 26 of them were in the county today and they would be welcome to participate in the exercises of the occasion.He then introduced Hon. Jasper K.
Darling, patriotic instructor of the G. A. R. in Chicago. The gentleman paid an eloquent tribute to the late President Sturtevant, of Illinois college and referred also to a speech called the lost speech of Lincoln and quoted from it and then proceeded with his address, in part as follows:
The speaker charged that the loud voice of Commercialism was dictating the neutrality policy of the United States, and he scored the administration, saying: "Judging from what we see and what we read, our administration says 'Amen' We too, are blind to all and every object beyond the ships that sail from our ports laden with these armaments of war."Referring then to the Lansing note sent to Austria in answer to that country's protest against the shipments of munitions, Col. Darling said:"That is the most unfortunate document ever issued from this nation to a friendly nation, at peace or at war. If that document is to be accepted as a guide to the pathway along which this nation must go, then, and in that event, we must at once create a standing army of a million men with ten million 'citizen soldiers,' drilled, disciplined and ready at a moment's call; and not only that, but we must build a navy on the plan of England—a navy double the size of the largest navy now afloat, belonging to any one nation of the embattling world."Asserting that the nation is forgetting the "Farewell Address" of Washington, the speaker said:"Woodrow Wilson by his present attitude is doing more to impair and sweep away the mighty truths handed down by the Father of his Country, than all the struggles of disloyal swords since he left the earth. Such a state of affairs could not be possible had we heeded the advice of Washington."Commercialism, as it has been carried on in this country during the past twenty or thirty years, has buried patriotism so deep that all the appeals of the Press are but pigmy voices when compared to what they could have been, had they stood consistent during the past twenty years.
True patriotism is a plant of slow growth, and it cannot be created between the rising and setting of the sun. The most deplorable thing that confronts our country today is the lack of pure American patriotism—that spirit of patriotism which, in the hour of danger, would say: Though I die my country shall not go down
—though I perish my flag shall be kept pure and untarnished by blot or stain."Gov. John Black said a few months since:"For many months we—the American people—have been arming the fighting armies of the world. Oh, young men! old men! there is no wickedness in that. I never spoke through lips of men, no brazen Moloch ever shouted anything that was wicked than the doctrine of this great Republic, in its prosperity and power, and opulence, should, in the name of 'Neutrality' arm and feed the men of the world while they struggle like ravening wolves for each others' lives! 'Think of it! We have sold them bread and blood.""We are selling them, today the means of sacrifice—the means of destruction. These are solemn words.
I want you to take them away and think of them."Such were the words of one whose well crowned years as a soldier, lawyer, scholar, heroic in war, devoted in peace, entitle his teaching to our most thoughtful contemplation, and our praise.In considering these problems, is it not true that, owing to so many past and divergent interests, so many interests where racial pride is omnipresent, and urgent with tongue and pen—owing to all this, the average mind is not yet fully decided, and that, within the struggling conscience
there constantly arises this yet unsettled question:What ought we to do?
Which the pathway of our patriotic duties.Inasmuch as we seem to be satisfying one combination of powers and not satisfying, but rather offending,
the other powers, may we not answer
that question by using the words, which seem to meet the case, written by a man born and reared in that empire whose ships control the seas, and whose armies are now being drawn from nearly all parts of the earth?And now, without prejudice in my own heart, and hoping that there to what this man has to say. They abide none in yours, let us listen authorities referred to is the Rev. Dr.
Charles A. Aked, former pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church,
New York—"a born Englishman and one of the most noted divines of both hemispheres."

I now repeat his question:

"What ought we to do?"

And this is his reply:
"We should prohibit the exportation of arms and ammunition.""On grounds of humanity we should refuse to feed the confagration of civilization to secure financial profit for ourselves."On grounds of public policy we should prevent the further growth and insidious influence of great social forces directly interested in the continuance and spread of war."On grounds of neutrality and national honor we should escape from a situation so uneven, which puts the sincerity of our high profession in a dubious light.""We cannot afford to cry out against war, and get rich by war."And, from the depths of your hearts, must you not admit that there is a spirit of justice and of righteousness prevailing every word Dr.
Aked has placed before the world?Today millions of our people are looking toward the president with these questions in their minds: Why allow the shipments of arms and munitions across the sea? Why contribute means for the continuance of that wicked and unholy war? Why must we—a peace loving people—become so seriously involved? These and like questions are springing up spontaneously from all over the land.
And what reply does the government give? We are told that, in order to maintain a spirit of neutrality, we must sell to all alike who come to buy, and who are prepared with ships to take their purchases away.
And we are also told that, under the provisions of "International law" we have the right so to sell.But right here the loud voice of Commercialism speaks up and says:
There are special provisions under our law of "Neutrality" whereby we have the right to manufacture and sell arms and munitions to all who may be prepared to buy.But we protest; and we claim that this not a "Neutral" condition at all—that but one power can reach our ports—that the power of which we speak has blockaded her enemies'— ports—that same power which controls the seas, and has for a full half century.That may be so, replies this all potent "Voice"—that may be so—but our eyes are blind and we are not able to see a single object beyond the buyer, with cash in hand before us.And what does our Administration say? Judging from what we see and what we read, our administration says "Amen!" We, too, are blind to all and every object beyond the ships that sail from our ports laden with these armaments of war, the proceeds of which we so much need to replenish our almost exhausted treasury.Such, my countrymen, is the intent of the commercialized powers of America today, and such is the interpretation, judged by the deeds, which we must place upon the motives of those who are now at the head of our government.I dislike to say these things, but say them I must; for I firmly believe that these men have forgotten the prayer, the advice, yea, the solemn admonition of one whose name lives in the heaven of man's noblest memory, and will so long as this nation remains on the map of the world.

JOHNS SCORES WINNING TALLY FOR WHITE SOX

RECRUIT IS HERO OF GAME WITH ATHLETICS.

Starts Ninth Inning With a Single and Crosses Plate After Some Clever Work on Bases—Cicotte Pitches Great Game.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—William Johns, the recruit third baseman, obtained from the Columbus club of the American association, was the hero of today's game with Philadelphia, the White Sox winning 3 to 2 in the ninth inning.

Johns started the inning with a single and made a beautiful slide into second base when Wyckoff took Schalk's grounder and tried to force the recruit at the keystone sack. Cicotte sacrificed Johns to third and he scored the winning run on Murphy's single to right.

Cicotte pitched a great game, allowing the visitors but three scattered hits. It was a base on balls followed by a triple which gave Philadelphia its first run and when Cicotte hit a baseman and a triple followed, that gave them the other run.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

BEARISH SENTIMENT DOMINATES WHEAT MARKET; PRICES DROP

Lowest Quotations of the Crop Are Reached On All Deliveries of Wheat—Corn Follows Wheat and Falls.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Bearish sentiment dominated the wheat market today on improved domestic weather conditions and a break at Winnipeg. The market closed weak at a net loss of 2 1/2¢, with September at 97 1/2¢ and December at 95 1/2¢.

Corn followed wheat and fell 1 1/2¢ to 14 1/2¢, with September at 73 1/2¢ and December at 63 1/2¢.

Oats were depressed by the slump in other grain and underwent a net decline of 1 1/2¢ to 14 1/2¢.

Provisions closed irregular, with ribs a shade firmer, other products easy. The provision range at the finish was 5¢ lower to 7 1/2¢ higher.

Lowest prices of the crop were reached on all deliveries of wheat today. There was heavy liquidation on the improved weather conditions in the domestic northwestern belt. The bearish sentiment early took such strong hold of the market that bullish factors abroad were ignored, such as unfavorable weather and crop reports in Argentina and India and advances that reserves in Argentina were about exhausted.

Liberal arrivals, general liquidation and a big increase in consignment notices were the depressing features of the oats market.

Attention of provision pit traders seemed centered mainly on ribs, giving some strength to that commodity while pork and lard weakened.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

By The Associated Press.)

Sydney, Australia, Aug.—On account of the death of officers for the 100,000 troops which Australia expects to maintain at the front youngsters at Duntroon, the West Point of Australia, are being commissioned for commands. This Australian school for military training has been established but a few years modeled to a certain extent upon the lines of the famous institution on the Hudson, and the era of activity through which it is now passing is not altogether unlike the era through which West Point passed during the Civil War. In the present European struggle the school has lost its founder, Major-General Sir William T. Bridges, who was fatally wounded by a Turkish sniper, and whose body is to be removed from Alexandria to Canberra, the site of the new Australian federal capital. In addition to this loss, eleven officers from the Duntroon school have been killed at the Dardanelles and twenty one have been wounded.

Normally Duntroon turns out forty officers each year, but this number proved too small in the stress of war. To meet the acute demand for competent officers the four years curriculum has had to be readjusted. When the war broke out there were at the academy twenty-six Australians and eight New Zealanders who were within five months of graduation. These youths were graduated forth with and in December last thirty-six others were graduated. A further batch of cadets are leaving for the front this month—making a total of 105.

But not satisfied with this rate of production, Colonel Parnell, the commandant of the college arranged with the Minister for Defense, Senator Pearce, to take in 35 young volunteer officers selected for service at the front. These men came up from the various states of the Commonwealth and were given two months training of a highly intensive and specialized character for the arm in which they were to serve. At the end of June the 35 went to join the expeditionary force at the Dardanelles and with them the 34 cadets who had been specially graduated.

The accession of youths who must be fitted for command in a hurry threw a great amount of extra work upon the Duntroon faculty, and lectures and demonstrations had to be given day and night to accomplish the purpose in view—turning out about 400 regularly and specially fitted officers in a year—but it was being done. Then the War Office cabled that all the Imperial officers on the faculty must return at once and thus the college will be crippled for the time being. These officers will be replaced by wounded officers from England who have been rendered incapable of further campaigning but are quite competent to act as instructors. Until they arrive the reduced teaching staff is carrying on the ordinary curriculum with the 34 cadets who are yet at the institution.

Paris, Aug.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The sword of honor to be presented by the people of Paris to King Albert has been completed by the sculptor Fetu. It will first be submitted to General Florentin, grand chancellor of the Legion of Honor, then to Monsieur Poincare, President of the Republic, after which it will be placed on view for a long time at the Exhibition of Belgian Art at the Petit Palais.

"No thoroughfare", is the inscription upon the guard at the foot of the hilt in the form of a statuette in massive gold, representing a young athlete upon the defensive, brandishing a club. The statuette represents the Flemish type, a Belgian having posed for the figure. The guard is also of massive gold, bearing the arms of the city of Paris in blue and red enamel, with the cross of the legion of honor and the device: "Fluctuat nec mergitur" and the date 1914 in diamonds upon an oak branch in green enamel. On the other side of the guard, in golden letters upon blue enamel, is the inscription: "The people of Paris to His Majesty Albert I, King of the Belgians". The inscription on this side is surmounted by a laurel wreath set with emeralds and rubies.

The blade of the sword is in steel of Saint-Etienne, ornamented with panoplies of steel upon gold, with these lines by Jean Richepin: "Droite, sans tache, sans effroi. J'ai pour ame ton ame, o Roi." ("Straight, spotless, and fearless, I have for my soul thy soul, O King.")

The sheath is of fish skin, tanned by a process revived from the 18th century. The chape bears the arms of the thirteen Belgian provinces, on a field of flowers and vegetation of the country: flax hops and colza. It is surmounted by a mural crown. The belt is a very rich piece of embroidery, designed by Madame Van Driest, in eight different golden tints, with ivy, symbolizing attachment; wheat, figuring abundance; oak, indicating force, and the laurel leaves of glory, interlaced upon velvet in the colors of Paris. The golden belt buckle is composed of three civic crowns, one of them forming the frame for the figure of a charging cavalier—emblem of war—another the Gallic cock, and the third the Belgian lion. The sword is enclosed in a white satin of King Albert.

Everything is symbolic in the design and execution of the work, even in the way in which it is to be presented, unsheathed, to indicate that it should not be sheathed excepting after the liberation of Belgium.

ATTEMPTED TO BREAK JAIL.
About one o'clock Friday afternoon an attempt was made by the prisoners to break from the county jail. Deputy Sheriff Wannamaker is acting as turnkey. Harry Luke, the regular turnkey is on a vacation. About one o'clock Mr. Wannamaker and Deputy Sheriff Stice heard unusual sounds in the corridor outside the cage. Investigation showed that some of the prisoners had gotten one brick out of the wall and had loosened several others. The prisoners were locked in their cells and will be deprived of liberties which have been accorded them. Had the work proceeded much further before discovery a delivery would have followed. It appeared that the work was done with a pocket knife and some blunt instrument.

Miss Catharine Davies residing in the vicinity of Salem Church, east of the city, is at home after spending the summer in Pueblo, Colo.

SEPTEMBER FANCIES

"I have loved the feel of the grass under my feet and the sound of running streams by my side. The hum of the wind in the tree tops has always been good music to me, and the face of the fields has often comforted me more than the faces of men."—Burdoughs.

HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL

September winds are sweet with rich fragrance of ripened fruit, new-mown hay and freshly garnered grains, for this is the harvest season, when Nature yields us generous bounty and redeems her spring-made promises.

In these early mornings there is a sharp tang in the air and the cool evenings remind us that vacation days are ending for us and just beginning for things that grow.

But though the year's summer beauty will soon be gone we have full recompense in the renewed zest we feel for our work. Fresh starts are good for everyone, so with every changing season we have opportunity to renew our energy; to try again to use our talents wisely.

Women who enjoy creating things from raw products delight in this month's food calendar. It contains such a wonderful assortment of material for filling the fruit and vegetable shelves and the root cellar.

Besides fresh nuts, fish, mutton, and fruits are prime, and this month pork is as wholesome as it ever is. Oysters come with the "R" in the month and you will want them without delay.

There is no spare time in September, for with pickling, preserving and getting the children into school every moment is precious. Every hour the work must go on without delay.

The garden needs to be gone over and the onions, peppers, beets, artichokes, beans and so on, picked before an early frost destroys them. Corn and the latest stringbeans should be put down in salt; the method is this: Use unglazed crocks and put in a layer of salt and a layer of beans or corn, continue until the crock is full. The first and last layer in the crock must always be salt. Cover the crock with cloth dipped in melted paraffin. When needed for use freshen what you take from the crock and you will find the vegetables really more palatable than canned beans or corn.

Questions and Answers.
"How is charcoal used to purify a cistern?"

Reply—Break enough clean charcoal into tiny bits to fill a quart measure and pour it into the cistern.

"Have you a recipe for making sand soap for scouring and for machinists' hands? If so, please publish same.—Dirty Hands."

Reply—Dissolve one package of soap chips in four quarts of boiling water, and when this is cold but not hard stir in as much sifted white sand or coarse marble dust as is needed to make a paste. If a very strong soap is desired add one-half pint of spirits of ammonia and use any of the strong cleaning powders use add some perfume and make the in place of soap chips. For hand mixture with mild soap.

You Would Like to Have That Steak Cooked Just Right? Indeed You Would

Think how difficult it is for the cook to perform such a feat after having wrestled with the coal pail, dirt, soot, smoke, and uncontrollable fire and an unsightly kitchen range.

The preparation of a perfectly delicious steak or any other cooked, baked, boiled or broiled article of food, on the new gas range is another trick entirely. The fire is just right, just where you want it and when you want it, and perfectly controllable and not accompanied with any of the above objectionable features.

You Will Want to Save On Your Coal Bills This Winter

No doubt you will. Coal is going to be higher this winter than ever before. The inevitable coal strike should be prepared for now. You can operate a gas range for one-half the amount that will be necessary to buy coal for a coal range at even the present price of coal and the cost of a gas range is a great deal less than that of a coal range.

You Have Decided to Buy a Gas Stove if You Can Find a Good One at a Reasonable Price

That is just what I am getting at. For TODAY we will make prices on Gas Stoves that will startle you.

We have our show room full of a variety of styles and makes and will be glad to quote rock bottom prices during these three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Come in and see us.

IOWA SENATOR HEARD IN GREAT ADDRESS

W. S. KENYON TALKED ABOUT OUR LEGISLATIVE TENDENCIES.

Economy Is One of the Greatest Needs of the Government Today—Expenses Increase Without Regard to Receipts—New Laws Not Needed Nearly So Much As Respect For Existing Statutes—People Show Increasing Interest Measures For General Betterment.

Senator William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, gave a splendid address at the chautauqua Friday afternoon. The coming of the senator was really one of the big events of the whole ten days' program and the address measured up with great expectations. Senator Kenyon is one of the most earnest forceful men in the United States senate. He represents a type of strong Christian manhood especially pleasing to the plain American people and his address yesterday gave his audience something to think about and the message was clothed with language eloquent but not ornate.

The theme was "Legislative Tendencies" and the speaker was introduced by Chairman Bancroft, who compared him formally with other forceful men that the state of Iowa has produced. Before entering upon discussion of his announced subject, the speaker paid tribute to the many old soldiers present and said that in the presence of such a company he felt a tug at his heart and a desire to turn his talk to patriotism rather than to the announced theme.

Ruthless Expenditures.

Senator Kenyon said in part: "The message I have today is directed particularly to voters and concerns the practical welfare of our government, and I am glad that in Illinois that I can address women as voters and I am confident that Iowa will follow Illinois' example in giving the franchise to women. Since men compose ninety per cent of the inmates of our jails and prisons and women make up eighty per cent of the memberships of our churches, it looks as if the women have a right to a voice in government affairs."

"One of the greatest needs of our government is greater economy in operation and the people should know how their money is spent. Economy is found in all our party platforms but has nothing to do with our governmental operation. This is not a partisan statement, for the men of all parties have joined in raiding the federal treasury. No one wants economy in the exercise of certain legitimate government functions but it ought to be applied with reference to our extravagances. There is no sense at all in a war tax in the time of peace if practical economy were applied to the government. When business is dull in private life we adopt economies and cut down expenses, but with the government it is different and when sufficient funds are not available for all desired expenses we simply levy more taxes. Some years ago when congress in criticism was termed a billion dollar congress, the late Thomas Reed replied that this was a billion dollar country. But even in the few succeeding years appropriations have grown until those of the last congress totalled $2,231,000,000. Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee said upon the floor of congress that last year the expenditures of the government exceeded its receipts by $103,000,000."

"Senator Aldrich once said that by the application of economy and business methods that the annual expenditures of the United States could be cut down $200,000,000. Ex-president Taft said that the cut could be at least $50,000,000, and I feel that I am conservative in saying that I believe a reduction of $100,000,000 could easily be made. One of the great causes of waste is the erection of public buildings where such buildings were not needed and not justified by the postal receipts. Public buildings are frequently benevolent and tend to a greater respect for the government in the communities in which they are erected, but the records of congress show bills introduced for the erection of large and expensive buildings in very small towns. I know in one instance where a bill was presented for the erection of a $75,000 building in a town in Wyoming where the census showed the population was 281 people. Another expenditure which has grown to large proportions is a result of the franking privilege for government officials. A statement compiled by an assistant postmaster-general in 1912 showed that the government expense for the mailing of campaign speeches through the government printing office was $2,560,000."

Some Waterway Costs. "Another gross extravagance has been shown in the river and harbor bill. I believe in the development of our waterways, but so many little lakes and rivers have been tacked on the river and harbor bill that it represents a wholesale expenditure of money without a return to the people. The development of the Hiram canal cost $5,000,000, and the figures show that in 1913 the amount of freight handled on the basis of investment and maintenance cost $46 a ton. In the case of the Mussel Shoals canal, the cost in 1912 was $41.76 and on other canal projects the figures are even more startling. I once heard Senator Tillman objecting to expenditures on the ground that the greater part of the money was spent in the north instead of the south, and he said, 'We want our part of the swag.' This same idea has often prevailed and I would ask you, whose money is being spent, and do the dollars come into the treasury in some golden stream."

"I remember one appropriation measure introduced called for the expenditure of a certain sum for the study of the diseases of wild ducks in the Salt Lake valley of Utah. Now you and I know that this bill had no other purpose than the creation of offices or positions to give to the friends of certain officials. An act like that ought to result in the sending of many 'lame ducks up Salt creek.' Now, the fault of these extravagances rests largely with the people because of their demand that their representatives at Washington get something for their district. So it happens that when the congressman who has been elected from Podunk Creek secures a public building for that village when he returns he is met at the station by the village band and a dinner is given at the opera house in his honor. This is because he has succeeded in getting through congress a measure calling for an expenditure of a large sum of the people's money for an unneeded building. The time should come when the same exercise marks the expenditure of the public dollar as the private dollar."

"Another legislative tendency is the enactment of too many laws. We need not so much more laws as a stricter enforcement of our present laws and a greater respect for them. Senator Root, I remember, compiled statistics showing that during the four years ending in 1913 that there were passed in this country 42,000 laws, and that there were 64,000 decisions by courts of last resort. With such a vast amount of legislation, how can people keep posted and observe the law? If congress were to meet and simply pass on appropriations and then adjourn for two years without the passage of any laws and give the people an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the laws already on the books, it would, indeed, be a salutary thing."

Moral Awakening Has Come. "But I do not want you to think from these statements that I am a pessimist, for I am far from it. I recognize that in the United States in the last few years there has been a great moral awakening, what Senator Beveridge termed the 'Reignance of American conscience.' This has been evidenced by the passage of many measures in the interest of the people as a whole. In this class can be mentioned the child labor, the safety appliance, mine equipment, income tax, women's labor limit laws, as well as a number of others. These are measures which have resulted from this awakening of the people and their demand for advances in the name of humanity. The time was when we were urged not to go into politics because of the contaminating influences therein, but times have changed and Christian people are recognizing that their duty is not simply to offer prayers and to sing hymns but to get to the polls and to see that the right men are elected. I remember from Holy Writ that a certain king did not hesitate to get down from his chariot and help with the wheel when the chariot was in the mire, and so it is the duty of good citizens to get down and help push along the wheels of progress and good government until a higher ground is reached."

"The people have done much for the suppression of the saloon and the evidence in the case of the people against the saloon has about all been submitted. The saloon has no regard for law or courts; it robs our children, stunts our men, fills our asylums and almshouses; and the great economic sense of the people, as well as their moral sense, has dictated that the saloon must go. "And as another basis for optimism and for commendation of the people I would mention the tendency of the public to keep cool and to exercise sober judgment in having the United States avoid entering into the conflict which is now waging in Europe. The great sentiment of the people is in favor of upholding national honor but it is equally opposed to war. The people are well informed of the sacrifices which participation in that war would mean, and that they are so unwilling that this country should take any part in the conflict is significant of the good judgment of the people, as well as their real patriotism. I have never met but one veteran of the great war of the rebellion who was in favor of war at this time. The wearers of those bronze buttons are too familiar with what war means to ever want this country to engage in the European conflict so long as there is any possible honorable avenue of escape from such an awful duty."

"There are other tendencies in our national life which deserve your commendation and mine, and I have no disposition to minimize them, but any hope has been this afternoon in this hour to lay more special emphasis upon the need for certain reforms. The chautauqua has come to be a great American institution and I am making the series addresses afford an opportunity for coming in touch with the best citizenship of the country and thus giving an opportunity to lay stress upon the need for advancement and reform along some special lines."

JUDGE MARTIN OVERRULED S. MAIN PAVING OBJECTIONS

Court Believed Evidence Did Not Substantiate Street Railway Company Claim—Appeal to Supreme Court Taken.

After the conclusion of testimony in the hearing of objections made by the Jacksonville Railway company to the assessment for the proposed South Main street pavement, Judge Martin in the county court yesterday entered an order confirming the assessment roll. He thus overruled the objections filed by the railway company and the company gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court, which was allowed and bond fixed in the sum of $1,000.

The further taking of evidence occupied all of Friday morning and several hours in the afternoon. Witnesses placed on the stand in behalf of the city were Dr. Edward Bowe, A. F. Franks, F. M. Morton, O. H. Hoffman, Joseph Shreve, Dennis Schram, William Widmayer, J. Edgar Martin, John Cherry, Luther Lashmet and E. M. Henderson.

The city sought to show by these witnesses the condition of the South Main street railway track and the need there is for the proposed improvement. Further the purposes of the testimony was to indicate that the portion of the expense of the proposed improvement assessed against the company was proper and in accord with assessment made against other property owners. Dr. Bowe in his testimony told of inspecting the property along with an engineer for the utility commission and declared that the condition was such as to render it somewhat dangerous for travel. Judge Martin in making his ruling indicated that the assessment might possibly be somewhat too high against the railway company but that no evidence had been introduced whereby he would be justified in making any re-apportionment of the costs.

The court in summing up the argument mentioned that the company was objecting to the kind of construction underneath and around its ties, whereas the testimony showed that before the specifications were drawn that representatives of the company were consulted as to the best plan for such work. The court further stated that at the hearing on objections was not the time for the company to make a claim that some other type of material or construction work would be better than those proposed—that the time for the presentation of such objections was when the public hearing was had. Some other points were mentioned by the court as influencing his opinion and he then entered the order confirming the assessment roll.

As previously stated, the appeal filed by the company will not put a stop to the paving work, and the city has the authority to proceed just as if an appeals were not pending.

MR. CUMMING HERE TO SEE CITY OFFICIALS

Visitor Had Charge of Work When Wells at North Side Station Were Sunk—Arrangements Made for Test Holes.

Charles S. Cumming, of Gardner, was in the city Friday calling on Mayor Henry J. Rodgers and the commissioners. Mr. Cumming is the man who sunk the wells at the north end pumping station. He was first employed by Messrs. Widenham and Daub when the first wells were put down and afterward was employed by the city.

Mr. Cumming is in Virginia on matters connected with the city water supply. He had heard that the present city council was contemplating the installation of additional wells and came over to investigate the matter.

Mayor Rodgers when seen and asked as to the probability of engaging Mr. Cumming, said that arrangements had already been made with the Layne-Bowler company of Houston, Texas. It is the intention of the city to have this company sink test holes and make a log of the water bearing strata at the north end station.

After the Layne-Bowler company makes the log it is probable that they will be engaged to install two more wells. The company makes a centrifugal pump with the motor for driving it on top of the pump. All of the adjustments can be made from that up. The company has been manufacturing pumping machinery for thirty years and now have over three thousand of their pumps in operation. Mayor Rodgers mentioned one city which had been operating seven steam driven pumps where two of the Layne pumps had taken the place of all of the seven with great reduction in the cost of operation. There also is little cost in repairs and the mayor is of the opinion that it will prove the proper design of pump to use at the north end station.

CHIMNEY ON FIRE.

Shortly after J. Phillip Read had started a fire in the parlor of his home on Sandusky street last night, the chimney caught on fire and it looked for a moment like there would be a serious blaze. Mr. Read had a Babcock extinguisher which he used to good advantage, so that it was not necessary to call the fire department.

UPLIFTING FACTORS CONTINUE TO ASSERT THEMSELVES IN TRADE

At the Same Time There is a Degree of Uncasiness That Deprives the Situation of Uniformity.

New York, Aug. 27.—Bradstreet's
tomorrow will say:

"Uplifting factors continue to assert themselves in trade and industrial circles, but at the same time there is a degree of unevenness in particular sections and certain industries that deprives the situation of uniformity. However, optimism as to the future seems unabated; our international political relations appear to have improved some sections report larger road orders; mail order trade goes on increasing; the southern situation is brighter; money everywhere is plentiful at low rates; collections are somewhat easier; foreign orders for manufacturing war supplies continue of large proportions; higher prices prevail for iron and steel and copper has emerged from its recent spell of dullness. On the other hand, buyers have not entirely divorced themselves from conservatism; the labor situation tends to reflect in sporadic strikes; the influence of competitive bidding for help; retail trade, though good in some sections, is not altogether favorable, wet, cool weather in the west having checked distribution, paucity of dyestuffs curtails operations in some textile lines and railway freight traffic is lighter than last year. The weekly bank clearings $3,156,182,000."

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

MACHINE TURNS TURTLE ON W.
LAFAYETTE AVENUE.

Victor Mitchell of Roodhouse and Miss Winifred Nuton of White Hall Taken to Our Savior's Hospital—Party on Way Home from Bearsdown.

Returning from Bearsdown to their home in Greene county last night, in a Ford car, Victor Mitchell and Clarence Elliott of Roodhouse and Misses Winifred Nuton and Minnie Driver of White Hall met with an accident at 11 o'clock at the corner of West Lafayette avenue and Diamond street. The car ran amuck in such a manner as to turn completely over spilling the occupants in every direction. People living in that part of town went to the rescue of the young people and found that Mr. Mitchell and Miss Nuton were injured. Miss Nuton was removed to the residence of Mrs. Henry Vieira and Mr. Mitchell to the home of O. N. Henderson.

An ambulance was summoned and the injured people were taken to Our Savior's hospital, where Dr. F. A. Norris and Dr. Edward Bowe were summoned. It was found that Mr. Mitchell had suffered a fractured collar bone at the shoulder blade, a deep cut eight or ten inches long in the left groin, a skin wound about four inches above the big wound, three bruises on his left leg and his back hurt. Miss Nuton was bruised about the chest, head and neck and suffered from the severe shock. It is thought that none of their injuries will prove serious.

After the accident parties looked in vain for Miss Driver and Mr. Elliott. They later showed up at the Aiton and Burlington streets, seeking a way to return to their homes. They found none via railroad so telephoned to the Cain garage at Roodhouse and a car came up and took them home. Aside from a few torn clothes and scratches, they escaped injury.

At the time of the accident the quartet of young people were driving east on West Lafayette. Coming back of them was a large red car, which passed them. In turning closer to the curb, the driver of the Ford struck the apron of the crossing, which broke one of the front wheels. This caused the car to whirl around and turned completely over. The other front wheel was broken, the fenders buckled off, and the auto presented a dilapidated appearance.
